Celebs Rebounding After Divorce

See who's bouncing back from heartbreak in a healthy way and who's struggling with singledom.

BRITNEY SPEARS

Since filing for divorce from Kevin Federline in November 2006, Britney Spears' life has been one big roller coaster, culminating in several rehab stays and one spontaneous head-shaving. The 25-year-old pop star's partying became so out of control that on September 19, a judge ordered that she undergo random drug testing twice weekly and meet with a parenting coach for eight hours a week. Spears has also been instructed not to consume controlled substances for 12 hours before seeing her children. Relationship expert Cooper Lawrence believes that the judge's order speaks volumes about Spears' parenting skills. "Why wouldn't she know that on her own? If it's so important for her to keep her kids, she should know better than to go out partying the night before she's supposed to see her kids."
